Japan Portfolio Brief — Wednesday, November 11, 2026

This brief covers the Tue Nov 10 US session and the Wed Nov 11 Tokyo and Seoul sessions, both closed.

Data-quality warning (continuing): all research came from search-result summaries only. WebFetch could not reach TDnet, kabutan, kabuyoho, DART, MOF, investing.com, Sedaily or company IR sites, so no primary filing was opened. Figures are press- or aggregator-reported. "QUIET" means nothing was found, not that the name is confirmed quiet. Check TDnet or DART before acting on any single-name call.

1. Top of the stack

1. SoftBank Group (9984): the stock shrugged off a ¥1.1tn quarterly loss after an 11% intraday drop.

- The loss. The Jul–Sep net loss was ¥1,115.3bn, against a ¥2.5tn profit a year earlier. Analysts expected anything from a ¥233bn profit to a ¥113bn loss. The first-half net loss was ¥768bn (Kabutan, media-ir).
- What drove it:
  - a ¥597.2bn write-down of advance payments for US power equipment for AI data centres;
  - financing costs of ¥461.9bn, 2.6x a year earlier;
  - losses on Intel-related derivatives.
- OpenAI. Fair value was unchanged at $99.6bn, against $54.6bn invested (Investing.com/Reuters).
- Balance sheet. CFO Goto put LTV at 15.9%, against the 25% ceiling. NAV is ¥59.8tn, down ¥12.5tn quarter on quarter (BigGo).
- Stock move. It fell as much as 10.5–11%, to ¥3,465 (Bloomberg, Nikkei). It then erased the drop as the market judged the financial concern small (Bloomberg Japan).
- Close. It ended "slightly negative" at about ¥3,855 (-0.4%) (Kabutan wrap). The ¥3,855 level comes from a single garbled Zaikei table; verify it.
- Credit. 5-year CDS reportedly widened to 466bp, the widest since October 2022 (secondary source; date unverified) (Investing.com analysis).
- ABB Robotics. The $5.4bn deal remains blocked by China, and a China carve-out is being weighed (Forbes, Robotics & Automation News).
- Verdict: MATTERS. The bad print was absorbed. The open questions are credit (CDS) and the ABB outcome, not this quarter's P&L.

2. Hot US CPI pushed up yields and the dollar. Asian equities rallied for a third day anyway.

- US CPI (October, released Nov 10). Headline +0.4% m/m against 0.3% expected; core +0.3% (CNN). Markets now price about 91% odds of a December Fed hike (FXStreet).
- US close, Nov 10. S&P 500 -0.38% to 7,520.93, Nasdaq -0.74%, Nvidia about -5.5% (CNBC, TradingKey).
- JGBs sold off.
  - 10y: 2.795% (+10.5bp) per Bloomberg, versus 2.750% per rallies.ai. The two conflict, probably because of snapshot timing.
  - 2y: about 1.835% (+6bp).

- Yen. USD/JPY was about 158.9, just below the 159–160 intervention-sensitive zone.
- Equities. The Nikkei rose 1.31% to 61,248.59, its third straight gain, led by Advantest and Tokyo Electron. Topix rose 0.92% to 3,929.39 (TokenPost, newsonjapan). Investing.com says +1.42%, but the points arithmetic supports +1.31%.
- Korea. KOSPI rose 2.60% to 5,375.36 and KOSDAQ rose 5.62% to 705.10 (Sedaily, Sedaily KOSDAQ).
- Verdict: MATTERS for the JGB reinvestment decision (section 4) and for the bank names.

3. Autos and materials results: mixed, with clear winners and losers.

- Honda (7267) raised full-year operating profit guidance to ¥780bn, from ¥650bn, and net profit to ¥500bn, from ¥400bn. H1 operating profit was ¥648.7bn (+48%). However, Q2 operating profit of about ¥118bn missed the LSEG median of about ¥250bn, and the new net guide is still below the QUICK consensus of about ¥585bn (Nikkei, nippon.com, Response).
- Sumitomo Metal Mining (5713):
  - a ¥42.6bn impairment at CBNC (Philippines), its second there;
  - full-year net guidance cut to ¥161bn from ¥216bn;
  - a buyback of up to ¥30bn / 7.5m shares (2.79%), running Nov 11–Jan 29;
  - a new policy of cancelling treasury stock above about 5%.

  The stock fell sharply for a second day (Nikkei, Zaikei).
- Mitsubishi Materials (5711), after the Nov 11 close: H1 ordinary profit ¥157.9bn (9.5x). Full-year ordinary profit was raised 22% to ¥220bn, a record, on tungsten (Kabutan). The stock reacts on Nov 12.
- Suzuki (7269) fell 3.4% to ¥2,219.5. Full-year pre-tax guidance was cut to ¥690bn on losses on financial assets, and H1 net profit of ¥253.7bn missed consensus (Investing.com, Car Watch).
- Subaru (7270) reported on Nov 10, not Nov 6. Operating profit was ¥116.0bn (+12.9%), with full-year guidance held at ¥150bn, so H1 is already 77% of the full year (MONOist).

4. Resona (8308) raised full-year net guidance to ¥340bn (the second raise this year) and is taking a 5% stake in M&A Capital Partners. Bank results week starts tomorrow.

- Results. H1 net ¥173.5bn (+21.5%) (Kabutan, media-ir).
- M&A Capital Partners stake. About 1.59m shares (about ¥7bn), settling Nov 13 (MACP).
- Stock. Resona closed +4.6% on Nov 10, before the release, and was -1.8% early on Nov 11 (close not verified).
- MUFG closed +1.95% at ¥3,502 into its Nov 13 results (Nomura quote).
- Coming results. SMTG reports Nov 12. MUFG, Kyoto FG, Shimizu, Fidea, North Pacific (8524) and Japan Post report Nov 13; Kita-Nippon (8551) reports Nov 12.

5. Small/mid-cap results: four positive surprises and one negative.

- Tigers Polymer (4231), after the Nov 11 close:
  - H1 ordinary profit +41.5%;
  - full-year ordinary profit raised to ¥4.2bn from ¥3.3bn;
  - dividend raised to ¥48 from ¥38 (Kabutan, Gomu Hochi).

- Valqua (7995) raised full-year ordinary profit 15% to a record ¥12.4bn (Nov 4).
- KH Neochem (4189) announced a buyback of up to 10.52% of shares (Nov 5).
- TOC (8841) reported H1 ordinary profit +75%, beating its own plan (Nov 10).
- Nakayama Steel (5408) cut full-year guidance 20% on a squeezed spread between steel and scrap prices.

Details are in section 2.

3. Probably noise

- SoftBank intraday snapshots of -6% (¥3,636) and -2.8% (¥3,765): superseded by the recovery into the close.

- Investing.com "Nikkei +1.42%": inconsistent with the points arithmetic; +1.31% is used.
- Business Upturn "KOSPI +2.23% at 5,356": an earlier snapshot.
- RTTNews "Suzuki net -4.3%": contradicted by all other sources.
- Seiko Group (8050) slump: a different company from Seiko Epson (6724).
- Shibaura Mechatronics (6590) guidance raise: a different company from Shibaura Machine (6104).
- Japan Post "Nov 11 results" (yuuwakushinpou): a likely mislabel.

4. Time-sensitive / positions watch

JGB No. 466 (0.50%, JP1024661QB1): matured Sun Nov 1; settlement still unverified.

- Terms re-confirmed on MOF pages:
  - 2-year, issued 2024-11-01, maturing 2026-11-01;
  - interest paid May 1 and Nov 1;
  - ¥2.03tn allotted at the Oct 29, 2024 auction (MOF offer, MOF result).
- ISIN: JP1024661QB1 is still not confirmed by any source. Its format is consistent with neighbouring JGB ISINs (OpenSanctions example).
- Payment date: presumed Mon Nov 2 under the holiday rule; not sourced.

Decisions:

1. Confirm settlement with the custodian. It has now been ten days since maturity.
2. Make the overdue reinvestment decision. Rates have moved against waiting:
   - after the hot US CPI, the 2y is about 1.84% and the 10y about 2.75–2.80%;
   - the 5y auction is tomorrow (Nov 12);
   - BoJ December hike odds are about 70%;
   - the Fed is now about 91% priced to hike.

   Short-dated paper looks better than it did a week ago, but a BoJ hike could push the front end higher still.
3. Update `watchlist-japan.md` once redemption is confirmed.

The position stays on the watchlist and is flagged, not dropped.

Open identity question for owner: 8551 Kita-Nippon Bank (Iwate) vs 8524 North Pacific Bank (Hokuyo, Sapporo).

- No change this run: aggregators again list 8524 as "North Pacific Bank" and 8551 as "The Kita-Nippon Bank".
- Both report this week: 8551 on Nov 12, 8524 on Nov 13. Coverage follows the 8551 ticker; please confirm which bank is held.

Watchlist updates made this run (no identity changes):

- Subaru's results date is resolved as Nov 10.
- Optex's results date is Nov 13.
- Hi-Lex: the nine-month figure is already above full-year guidance.

Portfolio-level:

- The Nikkei has risen three days running (about +6.6% over Nov 9–11). KOSPI is up about 6% over Nov 10–11 after an 11% plunge the prior week.
- Hot US inflation plus a priced Fed hike is the new risk to that rebound. Watch USD/JPY at 160 for intervention risk.
- SMM's buyback starts today, a mechanical support.
- Mitsubishi Materials' guidance raise and Tigers Polymer's dividend raise both trade for the first time on Nov 12.
