EM Portfolio Morning Brief — Monday, 9 November 2026

Coverage: full watchlist sweep; weekend window since the Friday 6 Nov run (Fri 6 Nov session through Mon 9 Nov morning/Asia close). Data caveat: page fetching was blocked for most primary hosts today (sec.gov, JSE, DART, MSCI, investegate and others), so nearly everything is search-snippet level. "QUIET" means searched, nothing found, not verified nothing happened. Share-price reactions to Q3 prints were largely not retrievable. Conflicts between sources are flagged inline; items marked UNVERIFIED should not be traded on without a terminal check.

1. Top of the stack

1. US jobs beat sharply; December Fed hike odds are now ~75–85%. October payrolls +165k vs consensus ≈59–75k, unemployment 4.1% vs 4.2% expected, and Aug/Sep revisions +84k (BLS, ANI, Kitco). Hike pricing is source-dependent: ≈75–76% (LSEG/Reuters), ≈80% (CME FedWatch, up from ≈67%), 85% in one report (InvestmentNews). 10y ≈4.86% (inconsistent across sources), 2y ≈4.52% (NewsBytes). DXY 102.30, +0.74% on Friday (Rio Times); a separate source has 102.12 (+0.63%). This is the headwind for EM FX and local-currency bond exposure (EMGA, BLTN). US CPI is Tue 10 Nov. Next FOMC 8–9 Dec.
2. Korea: no capitulation bounce yet. KOSPI closed 5,018.85 (-0.81%) on 9 Nov after rebounding intraday to 5,172.94 (+2.24%) and giving it all back; this implies the 6 Nov close of 5,059.69 (consistent with Friday's brief). KOSDAQ 638.97 (-0.82%, single source). USD/KRW 1,347.1 at the day-session close (-9.5 won) (Nate, Newspim). Foreigners were net sellers again (≈KRW659–693bn; sources differ) while institutions and other corporates bought. Samsung Electronics and SK hynix had only a "slight rebound" (Businesskorea); exact percentages not found. Contrast: the rest of Asia ripped higher (see macro), so Korea is lagging the relief rally. Exposure: Samsung C&T, Samsung Life, SK Inc and the full Korean sleeve. No verified BoK action found; the next meeting is ≈26 Nov (previous brief; not independently verified, and hike risk remains).
3. Global relief rally Monday, but fragile. MSCI APAC +1.9%, Nikkei +3.3% (>59,300), Taiex +4.9% after short-selling curbs, with an Nvidia probe headline in the background (Tickmill, investingLive). Friday: MSCI APAC -3.9%; Hang Seng closed 24,481.86 (-1.27%), HS Tech -1.83% on the AI-capex selloff, though +5.1% on the week (Ad-hoc-news). Conflict on US closes: one source (JournalArta, 7 Nov) has 6 Nov Nasdaq +1.09% to 24,579, S&P +0.32% to 7,377, Dow -0.46% (link); it is single-source and the prior brief's 5 Nov S&P -4.36% could not be re-verified. UNVERIFIED. TSMC (Oct sales Tue 10 Nov) is the key AI-capex read for the Asia tech complex.
4. MSCI Indonesia decision Wed 11 Nov (after close; effective 1 Dec) — the biggest scheduled EM event this week. Base case in local press is another freeze of FIF/NOS changes (Bisnis), but there is a conflicting, uncorroborated report (Business Today, 16 Oct) that MSCI has already launched a consultation to reclassify Indonesia as a Standalone market, with a final decision by end-June 2027, and that the IHSG "plunged 10%" (link). Confirm against the MSCI release. BRPT carries a medium probability of Standard-index deletion per Kontan (Kontan). IHSG opened 6 Nov -1.46% at ≈4,957 (Kabar Bursa); close not found. Exposure: BBRI, BRPT, INDF, MEDC, BUKA, HIDR.
5. Brazil retail/consumer miss; PRIO strong. Lojas Renner (LREN3) Q3 net income R$246.4m (-11.8%), adjusted R$187.1m (-24.5%), same-store sales -2.5%, Realize result -49%, and the company withdrew its 2026 and 2027–30 revenue growth guidance (Visno, DGABC). PRIO (PRIO3) Q3 net income ≈US$516–521m with output 191.6 kbpd (+117% y/y); sources conflict on the figure and growth rate (Euqueroinvestir, Análise de Ações). Release dates not confirmed.

2. What matters, by region/theme

EM macro thread (dollar/EM FX, China policy, commodities)

- Dollar / rates: see Top. Hawkish repricing (hike odds ≈80%) plus DXY +0.7% is the main EM FX headwind. MXN ≈18.63 and CLP ≈976.6 on Friday (Rio Times); USD/BRL R$5.508 on 6 Nov (+0.36%; Suno, article date unconfirmed, link); KRW 1,347.1 on 9 Nov. IDR (last verified Rp18,156 on 2 Nov), INR, ZAR, CNY, TRY: no current closes found. Bitcoin dipped to ≈$73.8k and rebounded above $75k (BiGGo). No MSCI EM index level found.
- China policy: US–China truce extension CONFIRMED: Bessent announced on 23 Sep (Xi in Washington) an extension of the Busan truce from 10 Nov to 10 Jan 2027; tariff rates were not cut (Political.org, Bloomberg Government). This resolves the open question from the last two briefs; the 10 Nov "expiry" is moot. APEC leaders' meeting 18–19 Nov, Shenzhen; G20 Miami 14–15 Dec; Trump has said he will meet Xi at both, attendance unconfirmed (Macao News). October trade data (Reuters poll, 9 Nov):

exports ≈+33.5% y/y (Sept +36.3%), surplus ≈$125.8bn; the official print was not found (US News/Reuters). CPI/PPI scheduled 9 Nov; one snippet showing CPI +0.7% and PPI +5.7% could not be verified and PPI looks implausible: do not use. LPR unchanged for a 17th month (1Y 3.00%, 5Y 3.50%); next ≈20 Nov (Trading Economics). No new stimulus found. Singles' Day 11 Nov: Citi expects low-to-mid single-digit industry GMV growth (StockTwits).

- Commodities: Brent settled ≈$98.32 on 6 Nov but fell ≈12–16% on the week (biggest weekly drop since 2020) on Iran de-escalation hopes after the midterms; Monday ≈$96.5–97.4 on mixed signals (Trump: new strikes "highly unlikely" if talks progress; Rubio: talks "not productive") (Invezz, RTE). WTI settle not found. Gold fell ≈1% on Friday to ≈$4,045–4,050 spot (Dec futures $4,079.50, +4.6% on the week), then +1–1.3% to ≈$4,113–4,130 Monday (USAGold, CNBC). Silver reconciled to ≈$52 (Dec $51.96, +5.8% on the week); the ≈$67 figure in the last brief was a stale/bad snapshot, discard it. Copper: no verified 6 Nov close; COMEX ≈$6.40/lb and LME 3M ≈$14,095/t as of 4 Nov (secondary) with the COMEX–LME spread $550–800+/t; no Section 232 refined-copper decision (SMM). Lithium carbonate: no spot found (Albemarle realized $20.02/kg LCE in Q3).
- US politics: Democrats projected to win both chambers (one source: 225 House / 54 Senate seats, which looks high and is single-source); counts not certified (Oneindia, Al Jazeera).

- Samsung Life (032830): Q3 expected ≈12–14 Nov (calendar estimate); a Korean article citing net profit KRW220.2bn (-21.6%) and an IR on "the 14th" cannot be dated: UNVERIFIED. Q3 2025 standalone was KRW723bn, Q2 2026 KRW689.9bn (-9.1%) (Asiae). Mark-to-market exposure to Samsung Electronics.

Brazil / LatAm

Brazil Focus survey, IPCA and fiscal news were not covered today. Next Copom 8–9 Dec.

4. Time-sensitive / positions watch

Mechanics / decisions

- US T-bill (US912797SA68 → CUSIP 912797SA6): MATURED 1 Oct 2026 (re-confirmed today: issued 2 Oct 2025; in Gabelli's 30 Sep 2026 holdings, PDF, TradingView). Decision needed: remove from the book or roll the proceeds (it has been a cash/zero-duration line since 1 Oct). `watchlist-em.md` row retained with the flag.
- MSCI Indonesia (Wed 11 Nov, after close): decide on HIDR/BRPT/BBRI/INDF/MEDC/BUKA positioning before the announcement; downside is a Standalone/frontier consultation, upside is a freeze with an unfreeze path in 1H27.
- RNW: no meeting dates yet. Watch for the SEC clearance, the final scheme document and the court convening order; rollover vs cash decision comes after the final document.
- MTN/IHS: no verified outside date; monitor NCC final approval, SA Tribunal, IHS LatAm disposals and IHS NYSE delisting. The 17 Nov date should be treated as unconfirmed.
- Korea: the KOSPI is ≈47% below the 19 Jun peak of 9,385.59 (last brief) and still being sold by foreigners; review Samsung C&T/Samsung Life/SK Inc for mark-to-market and liquidity, and LG Chem pref after the weak Q3 and Q4 guide. Fed-hike pricing plus a possible BoK hike (≈26 Nov) is the compounding risk.
- Rates/FX book (BLTN/EMGA): hawkish Fed, DXY +0.7%, weaker BRL (≈5.51) and the Banxico cut are the drivers; fund-level NAVs not found.
- GTE: closing ≈31 Dec; no change. Teck: SAMR decision undated, binary. LREN3: guidance withdrawn; reassess the thesis.

5. Follow-up questions to investigate

1. Fed/EM: with December hike odds ≈80%, how exposed are BLTN/EMGA (local-currency EM duration) and the Korean/Indonesian equity sleeve to a stronger dollar? Verify the 10y close and the CME odds on the terminal.
2. KOSPI: why did Korea lag the Asia-wide Monday rally (-0.81% vs Taiex +4.9%, Nikkei +3.3%)? Is it foreign outflow, margin liquidation, or the lack of a BoK/government backstop? Exact Samsung Electronics and SK hynix moves.
3. US closes: were 6 Nov closes up (JournalArta: S&P +0.32%) or is that wrong? Re-verify the 5 Nov -4.36% S&P figure from last brief.
4. MSCI Indonesia: has a Standalone-reclassification consultation already been launched (Business Today, 16 Oct)? What did the June MSCI statement actually say? Is BRPT's Standard-index status at risk this review?
5. TBC Bank: Q3/9M group results versus GEL368m; Uzbek subsidiary losses.
6. RNW: SEC review timeline, court convening date, final rollover terms; Masdar's role.
7. MTN/IHS: is there a real long-stop date? Status of NCC final approval and the SA Tribunal.
8. LREN3: what drove the Realize result and the guidance withdrawal; read-through to CVCB3/MOVI3/CYRE3 before their 11–12 Nov prints. PRIO: reconcile net income US$516.6m vs US$521m and the growth rate.
9. HEPS: funding/inflation accounting path after another large loss.
10. Teck/Anglo, FM/Panama, Section 232: any signal on timing; copper price on 6–9 Nov (not found).
11. China: official October trade and CPI/PPI prints; whether the 10 Jan truce extension also covers export-control suspensions.
